Abstract: Power of the Executive and Legislative Behavior in the Local Government Budgetary Process: Symbolic Interactionism Perspective. This study aims to understand the behaviour of the executive and legislative powers in the budgeting process in the Mayapada Urban Governance. Analyses were performed using the method of symbolic interactionism in the interpretive paradigm. The data was collected through interviews with informants on the preparation of planning and budgeting, which is supported by the observation and documentation. Development Planning Meeting (musrenbang) is claimed in the reformation era to have used participatory approach, but people were in fact still placed as participation object. There has been a blurring of reality which is named as "cataract", by building a sweet imagery interaction in public with hypocritical languages . Social facts illustrated are the behaviour of the executive and legislative powers in the budgeting process.
